The project for Semester II of the Master's Program in Environmental Architecture was a study in land suitability for building construction.

Students were required to plan and design an eco art resort with respect to land suitability and long-term sustainability.

The studio was conducted by Ar. Priti Bhandari and Ar. Rajeev Tayshete